

Welcome!

I'm a blogger, social media influencer, and freelance writer who is passionate about travel, exploring, trying new things, and sharing it all with my new baby, Parks.

We enjoy promoting adventurous and family-friendly destinations, as well as the companies, products, and services that make traveling with a baby easier and more fun. My overall goal is to inspire new parents to continue exploring and getting outside even though their lives may look a little bit different with their new sidekick.
